

DR. SAM MALONEY COLLECTION, 1967-1970

[7 trays; 4 small boxes]

ABSTRACT

The Dr. Sam Maloney Collection is a collection of Native American arrowheads and spear points gathered by Dr. Sam Maloney, Professor Emeritus of Religion at Davidson College. This collection includes items from Iredell and Cabarrus counties that Dr. Maloney located, exhumed, and identified from 1967-1970. There are seven trays of artifacts and four small boxes of potsherds in this donation, including a variety of points, such as those from the Early-Late Archaic (10,000-3,000 years before present), Lecroy (9,000-5,000 BP), Adena Blades (3,000-1,200 BP) and Caraway points (1,000-200 BP), among many others. Dr. Maloney utilized Joffre Lanning Coe's book The Formative Cultures of the Carolina Piedmont, and Robert M. Overstreet's Overstreet Identification and Price Guide to Indian Arrowheads, in identifying his collection.

This collection contains seven trays of artifacts.
