NEW SEATS WILL REPLACE BENCHES IN THEATRE NO. 2

New seats will soon replace wooden benches in Theatre No. 2, Major Earl W. Hutchison, Theatre Officer, announced today. Installation of the new seats is expected to be completed within two weeks.

COVER PICTURE

Leading man in Morris Field's expansion as one of the most important army air fields in the southeastern area is Colonel Warner D. Gates, a robust, genial mid-westerner. As Base Commander, he has a tremendous job of directing the organization of the new sub-bases now under the control of Morris Field. He's a big man for a big job.

Colonel Gates is one of the few officers in the Air Force who rates as both a command pilot and balloon pilot. He is likewise a balloon observer and combat observer.

BOWLING 'EM OVER In the squadron duck pin league is Private Joe Barone, of the 847th Military Police Company, who this week had a season's average of 312, good enough for second place among the scoring leaders. This week's pace-setter was Pfc. Michael Nasgari of The Medicos.

CAGERS IN PRE-SEASON WARMUP AT BERRYHILL

A two-week exhibition schedule was announced today for the six teams entered in the Squadron Basketball League. The pre-season warmups will begin Monday at the Derryhill High School gym.

Practice games will be held three nights a week from 5:30 to 10:30 P. M. Only two games will be played a night.

This season's squadron league will be a triple round robin affair with each entry playing 15 games. Squadron will furnish the teams with uniforms and equipment. The Physical Training Center will supply basketballs and officials.

Soldiers' tickets for the football game between North and South Carolina high school all-stars to be played at Charlotte Memorial stadium on Saturday, December 5, may be obtained at the Public Relations Office. Admission is 55 cents for enlisted men.

30th BOWLERS MOVE UP TO THREATEN QM EAGLES

The 30th Base Headquarters bowlers came into their own this week, smashing their way into a two-way tie for leadership in the squadron duck pin league, and moving into another tie for second place in the ten pin circuit.

Their surge to the top in duck pins was fashioned on a stunning victory over the Pankers from the Finance Detachment, and the defeat of the pace-setting 903rd Quartermaster by the upstart Medicos.

On the Ten Pin alley, the Quartermaster still held a firm grip on first place. They continued their winning ways this week with an overwhelming victory over the 68th AAF Band. The up-and-coming 30th defeated the 853rd Signal to gain a second-place tie with the Military Police Company.

For the third straight week, Warrant Officer Herman Summers led the ten pin scoring with a season's average of 563. His nearest rival Knapp of the 30th Base Headquarters, was rolling at a 516 clip. Last Week's Duck Pin leader, Private Joe Barone dropped to second place as Pfc. Michael Nastari, of the Medicos, moved up from the also rans to step into the lead with a 313 average.

The scoring leaders:

By Cpl. Albert W. Farnsworth

Medical Detachment---Congratulations to all those who helped in making the recent party staged by the Medical Detachment such a big success....Capt. William Passoff wants it understood that he received his black eye while refereeing a basketball game. It seems that he believes in calling 'em close....speaking of basketball, the Medicos will bear watching in the league this year. Coached by Cpl. Miles Hayes, they are improving steadily and recently were victorious over 30th Base Headquarters in a practice game....First Sgt. Clyde J. Grene has just returned from a trip to New York....Sgt. Howard Crosswell has left for the Raleigh Air Base. All of his friends wish him the best of luck....Congratulations to Sgt. Aubry Everly on his recent promotion to staff sergeant....Lt. Thomas A. Brady has decided to quit playing basketball, because of the lack of competition. His new 'bolo' shot has his fellow officers baffled....Lt. Col. Oliver H. Waltrip recently took a flying trip with Colonel Gates....There's no need to worry when you ask T-5 George Walden to fill a prescription. A graduate of Fordham University, he has had 19 years of pharmacy experience....Pvt. Lumir Kopecky is a sad and wise proud soldier these days. He has just received news that the girl friend has joined the PAAC's....It is rumored that Pvt. Bruce Fetherbridge will soon join the parachute troops. He's already practicing on how to pull a ripcord....For three days last week everyone in the hospital went around developing his own pet theory as to how the carpenters were going to remove the telephone pole that suddenly sprang up around the new DC-3 Dental Clinic. As the moment drew near for the big event the spectators were peering out of all windows, it was amazing to watch their bewildered expressions as the carpenters calmly sliced the pole into sections and rolled them over without batting an eye....Wonder why T-5 Harold Heyman has acquired the name of 'Placksmith'?

CAUGHT IN THE ACT, T/Sgt. Charles Mmetta of the Technical Inspector's office, presents a modern version of gold-bricking in a comfortable spot aboard a P-15. This unposed shot was snapped by Photographer Herman Eabel enroute to Blackstone, Va., a sub-base of Morris Field.

LT. JAMES SARRIS IS NEW COMMUNICATIONS OFFICER

By Sgt. H. G. Fiehl

4th Leather & Communications Detachments---Greetings, to our new Communications Officer, 2nd Lt. James N. Sarris, who has arrived at Morris Field via Maxwell Field, Ala..A native of the Windy City, we hope he'll enjoy this new position as much as your correspondent has enjoyed Chicago....Farewell to T/Sgt. Gilbert Tishell of Brooklyn, N. Y. and Sgt. George Welsh of Newark, Ohio, who departed this station early last week. Bon Voyage and lots of luck....The Communications boys had a lot of exercise transposing the receivers in the radio room, but at least they have more room and light for their troubles....Also, the Communications Detachment is now a 24-hour service....Something new has been added to the platform atop the Operations building. That silver, cylindrical object you behold is the new theodolite stand.

"DUNKIRK - WITHOUT BOATS"; ROBIDER TAKES FATAL LEAP

By Cpl. Herman Teissberg

30th Base Headquarters---In his enthusiasm for reporting actions and reactions within the squadron, your correspondent turned inquiring reporter for the day. Here are some typical answers he received to the question: 'What was your first remark when you heard about the Allied Offensive in North Africa?' Pfc. Hollis Dowell: 'Oh man! That's all right!'; Sgt. Robert Newlin: 'A German Dunkirk--without the boats!'; Cpl. Leonard Leary: 'Best news in a hulluva long time!'; Sgt. Justus Gossett: 'At last we've stopped talking!'; Cpl. Angelo Pinto: 'Holy Mackerel, now we're going to see some action!...'Opinion is unanimous that this time we hold the ace....Thanks to the fellows for the warm reception given last week's column. I got it right in the seat of the pants.. Surprise of the week: Cpl. Bill Franklin in the PX ordering MILK!.....An announcement from Cpl. Robider--'I am no longer available to the bachelor girls of Charlotte. It is with regret and chagrin that I am forced to announce my approaching marriage.'...Good luck, 'Robbie'.....And did you know that Sgt. Boyd's friends have voted his hair as most likely to recede?.....Friends tell me that they met Cpl. Shatzel in the chow line last week, reading 'Gone With the Wind'. He expected to finish it before reaching the head of the line. What a mind!.....Pvt. Maurice Maymon, a newcomer to the 30th, was an embalmer in Civilian life. He says that's why he's in the Air Corps.....And then there's Pvt. Everett Quinan, from New Britain, Conn., who was a professional skater, ballet, figure eights, and all. Here's competition for Sonja Henie.....Brother Julius asks, 'Why isn't swimming authorized in the motor pool?'.....And more pet names: 'Slink' DiFabbio, 'Shack' Shachner, 'Hickory' Hall, 'Raz' Razler.....Now let me tell you about the private in B-3 who takes showers with his GI shoes on. 'It keeps my feet dry,' he explains. Laugh of the week: The poem on the bulletin board that goes something like this... 'My thanks, Oh Lord, I give to thee, and all your praises shall I pen. In my great virtues all may see that I am not as other men...' This masterpiece is dedicated to 'The Farracks Bazzard,' the fellow we all know.....And now, with a wish for rain every day at 4:30, Cheerio until next week.

STROUPE BESIEGED BY AUTOGRAPH FANS

By Sgt. V. R. Caudle

68th AAF Band---The Band really pulled in the dough at Mooresville, N.C. Armistice Day War Bond drive. The small town, with a population of a few thousand, kicked in over $38,000 and gave the boys the welcome of a king. Some 3,000 school kids swamped the Band for autographs....When the rumor (false) got around that Sgt. Charles W. Stroupe was Gene Autry's brother, he was forced to wear out several pencils signing his autograph, and the fan mail hasn't stopped coming in yet.

FOUR MEN GO UP LADDER; OCS GRADUATES MOVES IN

By Cpl. John Schriver

Finance Detachment---After a comparatively lengthy period of quietness, a series of promotions burst forth in the Finance Detachment last week. Those immediately affected by the rating rash which sent four men a notch higher on the ladder of military success include Pete De Sordi, Cecil K. Council, William A. Elam and Chester V. Carter...S/Sgt. DeSordi was promoted to Technical Sergeant; 3rd Tech. (Sgt.) Council and 4th Tech. (Sgt.) Carter were rated staffs, while 4th Tech. (Sgt.) Elam stepped up to 3rd Tech. (Sgt.)...Most pleased by his promotion was Sergeant DeSordi. A veteran with four hash stripes on the sleeve of his blouse, this marks the first time Pete has stopped in one place long enough to add another stripe to his staff rating. He had been Staff Sergeant for two years and believed himself the ranking staff in the Finance Department at large....The Finance social register notes the visitation of Cpls. Richard J. Hoover and his inseparable buddie, Jim Malcolm. The two paratroopers were making their last appearance before going into the final training period at Ft. Benning, Ga. Corporal Hoover is the son of Major C. F. Hoover, Base Finance Officer....Latest ad. (Continued on Page 9)

OPERATIONS OFFICE IS STREAMLINED . .

FACILITIES IMPROVED FOR VISITING FLYERS

The Army Air Forces pilot, whose itinerary brings him to Morris Field, will find real hospitality awaiting him in the streamlined Operations Building.

Revamped and enlarged, this focal point of activity on the flying line has added a luxurious lounge, where officers can find relaxation and comfort while their planes are being serviced or inclement weather holds them up, and a new map room where a trained staff is ready to give assistance in charting trips over the airways.

Other features includes a remodeled dispatcher's office and a new locker room for officers.

With Morris Field occupying a strategic position for handling local and cross-country traffic, the office is geared to give maximum efficiency on an around-the-clock basis.

Heading the operations division is energetic Captain Horace F. Hill, native Indian and former Eastern Air Lines traffic manager, who served in a similar capacity under Col. Werner B. Gates at Lawson Field.

To him and his staff falls the responsibility of supervising the field and its installations, to see that the tower is functioning at all times, keep runways in condition, and provide a clearing house of information for all inbound and outbound aircraft.

Theirs is a fascinating, responsible job and one of the most vital functions to 'Keep 'em Flying'.

A HUGE MAP, - containing all important aerial routes in the country, covers the door leading into the new pilots' lounge. Lt. Drayman of Camp Davis, N.C., awaiting clearance orders, is pictured here.

AN INNOVATION is the map room where pilots may check routes they plan to follow, distances involved and landing facilities of destinations. Sergeant Hill and Corporal Urmsen are assisting the officers.

PILOTS' LOUNGE, MAP ROOM ARE ADDED

THESE ENLISTED men comprise part of the trained staff in the dispatcher's office, which checks all incoming and outgoing traffic and provides up-to-the-minute weather data. From left to right, Cpl. William Urson, Captain Hill, Pvt. Arthur Kalter, S/Sgt. Raymond Hill, Chief Dispatcher Cpl. Leo Schwegel, Pvt. Paul Sauve and Pvt. George James.

ENJOYING THE COMFORTS of home are these flying officers, who find privacy and rest between hops in the spacious lounge, equipped with reading lamps, radio and soft reclining chairs. It is proving one of the most popular features of the expanded facilities in the Operations Building.

THE CIVILIAN PLATFORM

JOE BELL TAKES HUSBAND; ANOTHER IS ALTAR-BOUND

By Joe Hull

Post Engineer---Observations: Chief W. H. Fuller, Mister 5 by 5, almost.....Lib Long and Rosie Corbett vying for the title of best dressed gal in the office....Marion McPrayer getting twice as much mail as the office....scads of special deliveries.....Joel Thurston Kizer getting his beauty sleep, and HOW on the morning of November 12.....If you've noticed a streamliner in the P.E. office it's Carol 'Darling' Ezell, who's recently lost 10 pounds..... A pat on the back to Ralph West for keeping his runway equipment spotless. Walter R. Murfee taking a half second off to catch a drag between telephone-calls, of which he averages about 150 per day.....If Rufus L. Furr, carpenter, were in the Army he'd break up Uncle Sam, what with allotments for his wife and seven offsprings.....Wonder how we'd ever get along without: Sgt. William McNeely janitor, proceeding with the mail from the office of the Post Engineer to Base Headquarters, where the flag pole stands, etc.....The Most Out of the World Man in anybody's office: Fred S. Conrad, who was born 30 years too soon, or maybe the writer was 30 years too late.....Lt. Rosa suggesting we start an Alexander's Ragtime Band, since we have six Alexanders.....News has been received by Lee Walker that his son, Pvt. Bailey L. Walker, who has been confined in the hospital at Fort Sam Houston, Tex., is improving nicely.....Frank 'Pop' Byers has four sons working for Uncle Sam, Frank, Robert and Howard in the Army, and Gene in the Navy.....Miss Joe Bell, Code Reporter, was married November 14 to Bill Hull at the Myers Park Methodist Church and they tell us that she is now hunting for an apartment. They say Helen Wyatt is not far behind you, Joe. She recently returned from a vacation in Georgia and now her third finger, left hand, is covered. Helen has been working in the Base Civilian Personnel Office since October 1, and we welcome her back.....Lt. James R. Ross, who recently reported to this office from Atlanta, Ga., has gone to the Post Engineer Office at the Raleigh sub-base.. Lt. Kropp, who has been in the swamps of South Carolina for a week, has returned to civilization.....Captain Hayworth has returned from Atlanta on official business....This and that;

Fire at No. 1! It's the Junker Ju 90, one of Germany's largest land planes, and is used as a troop transport. The leading edges of the wings are strongly swept back and the trailing edges are slightly swept forward. The deep fuselage extends beyond the tailplane.

Not at No. 2! It's the Brewster B2A1, also known as the U. S. Navy's "Seacow". Used as a dive bomber, this "sea" bomber, mid-wing monoplane is powered by a radial motor. Both edges of the wings are slightly but equally tapered to rounded tips. The fuselage is long and the tailplane is slanted.

We hear Mr. Kiser is talking about a uniform these days.....Mr. Renn, foreman painter, has been transferred to his old stamping grounds in Virginia.

BUNDLE OF HEAVEN DROPS; LT. LAND GIVING LESSONS

By Delette Henderson

Sub-Depot Supply---Uncle Sam's gain was our loss when Herman Owens left for the Army and Daniel Grooms for the Navy. Good luck, boys.....We're sorry to learn that Miss Miriam (alias Sunshine) Pinnell was in an automobile accident last week. Hope her recovery will be a speedy one....Old Man Stork dropped a little bundle of heaven over the Boyce P. Shook home Monday. Another fine soldier for Uncle Sam... Miss Meredith Hendrix resumed her duties as teletype supervisor after undergoing a tonsillectomy.....Mrs. Janet Edwards was transferred from Supply and is now an interviewer in the Sub-Depot Personnel Section.....If anyone is interested in taking Polka lessons, see Lt. Land. Six easy lessons from him would fix you right up.

THE FEMINE PERSONNEL of Morris Field Post Exchange is decked out in new uniforms of maroon and gold. Counter-girl Janie Fowell, a Charlotte miss, models the new FX creation.

WHO'S WHO IN THE SQUADRON SPOTLIGHT

ditions to the Finance personnel include Lts. Walter H. Gross, Jr., and Arthur A. Roedel, Assistant Finance Officers. Lt. Gross is from Philadelphia, Pa., while Lt. Roedel hails from Passaic, N. J. Both officers are recent graduates of Army Finance OCS....Among the enlisted men who recently completed their basic training and are now full-fledged Finance men (they've already qualified in the 'buck-passing' department) are two Charlotte lads, Pvts. Willis G. Cooper and David C. Nixon....Latest addition to the roster is Pvt. Howard McNeill. 'Mac' was formerly a resident of Quaker Town and served for a brief period in World War I....The Finance Winchel (sometimes referred to as 'Keyhole Joe') remarks that Sgt. Phil Carter's face might have undergone some colorful and embarrassing changes if he hadn't hung on to that letter to the girl back home...The lassie was ill and had to postpone her literary efforts. Phil, who preaches firmness at all times, re-wrote the letter in a much softer vein....Circumstantial evidence indicates that Sgt. Ed Thorpe is on the very brink of disaster. Unless that booklet on matrimony fell into his hands, accidentally. Could it happen, here? Miss Kathryn Wise, secretary to the Finance Officer, is justly proud of the diploma indicating her successful completion of the Army Finance Home Study Course...Miss Wise is now doing some graduate work in knitting. The olive drab garment is not destined to be sent to a WAAC. . . . William Morrison, Jr., son of S/Sgt. William Morrison, should be considered in the 'bouncing' stage. He's getting to be a chubby little rascal....Bulletin to their feminine admirers in Charlotte: Cpl. John Longonotti and Sgt. Charles E. Strickland are now located at Myrtle Beach, S. C. It is a permanent change of station. Incidentally, it's now T/Sgt. Strickland.

WAACS VISIT AREA SIX; 50 MEN GUESTS AT DINNER

By Cpl. Robert P. Davis

459th Signal Company---Soldiers of Area Six were treated to a splendid drill exhibition Sunday, given by Charles W. Young Legion Post Drum and Fugle Corps. All of the men participating had seen overseas service. Dr. Webb acted as M.C....It was impressive and gave the boys something to shoot at....Companies A and B were joint hosts recently to WAACS Doris Johnson of Charlotte and Ruth Lucas of Connecticut, visitors of Miss Mary Houston, Charlotte. The visitors were welcomed by 1st Lt. Roman after a short interview at headquarters....Sergeant Williams and 50 men were guests at a dinner given by the C.M.E. Church in Charlotte....Pvts. A. E. Lucas and O. Rusby gave brief talks.

PRIVATE HAS RIGHT SPIRIT; TWO MORE WIN PFC. STRIPES

By Sgt. Nate Lipshutz

636th Ordnance Co.--The other day Pvt. Alden G. Foppiano, while bouncing along in the morning chow truck, remarked: 'With the way things are coming along in the South Pacific, it begins to look like Hirohito is going to lose face, and Hitler won't get the chance to tell his people from his favorite hangout in 1945 that this year we are going to take Stalingrad.' Call it what you will, but it seems that Foppiano has the right spirit....Promotions of the day are Pfc. stripes to Pvts. Otto J. Hogan of the Bronx, home of the famous cheer, and Joseph Gabertovich of Newark, N. J. And so it comes to the parting of the script with apologies to the famous Omar of Rubyatt fame: 'It is not for us to wonder why, but to do our best for Old G.I.'.

REHEARSALS BEGIN FOR MINSTREL SHOW

An all-soldier cast of 30 men from Companies A and B of the 459th Signal Co. has begun rehearsals for a minstrel show to be presented at Theatre No. 2 in the near future.

Pvt. Stacey A. Thomas, who possesses several years of experience in dramatics and the entertainment field, will serve as producer of the show, tentatively scheduled to be given the latter part of November or early in December.

Lively gags and tunes will be featured, with headline acts to include Walter Lee, a professional tap dancer, a boggie time drill, a fire-eater novelty stunt, a jitterbug dance, with soldiers impersonating girl dancers, and a soldier quartet whose personnel has appeared in Charlotte a number of times.

Men with professional theatrical experience who have been selected for the cast include Sgt. A. D. Green, Cpl. L. Grier, Pvts. F. Barnes, A. B. Johnson, W. Laundry, E. Punter, C.A. Benjamin, O. Rusby, T. Follie, A.E. Lucas, S. Reid and J. Copper.

NEW PAVING TO BASE OPENED TO TRAFFIC

The one and a half-mile strip of new pavement leading from Wilkinson Blvd. to Morris Field was opened to traffic Saturday following a final inspection and acceptance by W. A. Little, resident engineer of the North Carolina State Highway Association.

Leading to Base Headquarters, the new road will serve as the main entrance to the field.

An additional improvement calls for the construction of a stone entrance, located near the sentry box on the road, which formerly served as the main thoroughfare to the field.

NEW HEAD MAN of Morris Field's well-equipped Photo Section is 2nd Lt. James Edward McDaniel, of Oak Park, Ill. He comes to the Base as a qualified aerial cameraman from the Photographic OCS at Lowry Field, Denver, Colo. As an enlisted man, Lieutenant McDaniel served a hitch in the Field Artillery at Fort Devens, Mass. He is a graduate of Northwestern University.

TWO USO PROGRAMS COMING NEXT MONTH

Two USO programs have been booked for Morris Field next month, it was announced today. 'Crazy Show' will be presented December 7, and 'Room Service' on December 30.
