EDITORIAL

Recently one of the most important battles of the home front was launched: the Treasury Department’s Third War Loan drive. This is a battle in which all Americans, soldiers and civilians alike, play an equal role: on the issue depends the safety of the country.

For the United States, this war represents the most gigantic financial enterprise ever undertaken by any nation. It will be won by our forces and those of our Allies, of that there can be no doubt. But for that victory to be translated into a prosperous and happy postwar United States, the economic security of the nation must be assured.

As much as possible of the cost of the war must be paid now by the people of the country. There are two ways by which the government may receive this money to pay for its needs to invest as much as possible in bonds.

The purpose of the various bond drives is to give the government as much as possible of the money which otherwise would have been spent on essential purchases. Much of this money should come from soldiers, most of whose essentials are provided without cost by the government. In addition, the purchase of bonds is an effective means for soldiers to use some money aside—safely without a good rate of interest—for future civilian days.

The war will not be lost on the battle front. If you don’t want it to be lost on the home front, BUY BONDS.... AND MORE BONDS... until it hurts.

RETREAT PARADE WINNERS

There is keen competition among the squadrons each week to be the outstanding squadron in the regular Friday afternoon Retreat Parade which is reviewed by Col. Warner B. Gates, CO.
ARMY AUCTION TIME FOR
ARMY EMERGENCY RELIEF

On last Thursday night the Morris Field Air Show, featuring the Morris Field Orchestra under the direction of CWO Vm. H. Tortion, Sgl. Judy Boggs, an announcer and Sgl. W. V. Franklin, as announcer journeyed to Station WSCF where a rally was held over the air to sell tickets for the Army Emergency Relief Benefit showing of Irving Berlin's "This Is The Army". Mr. R. M. Fitzgerald, Sales Promotion and Publicity Manager of WSCF acted as auctioneer and made the show sound like a Carolina Tobacco Market Auction. As the calls came in for the tickets which sold for $5.00 to $50.00, they were delivered to the purchasers by Army jeeps.

The picture above WAC Sgl. Judy Boggs is shown selling a ticket to Mr. Tom Tassen of 2100 Greenway, who perhaps is providing help for himself as he soon expects to be called into the service.

The total sales for the evening amounted to approximately $250.00 and a much better showing might have been made had not the storm of that evening caused the lights in about a third of the city to be off during the hour of the show.

What a woman needs when she is buying slacks is hindsight.

TACTICAL AIR DIVISION FILMING

"A LETTER TO BERTHA"

Headquarters, I Tactical Air Division, is being put on celluloid in the filming of "A Letter to Bertha", a movie based on the organization and its personnel.

The picture, planned as a featurette, is being filmed in 16mm and features the officers and men of Sq. 1, T.A. 1, and the Sq. 34.

There are few acting parts because most of the scenes are authentic. Included among them are pictures of obstacle course runs, mass calisthenics, Saturday Review and parade, the Chemical Warfare training program and first aid. Added to that are many "candid" shots of men in unposed situations.

Pam's scene in "A Letter To Bertha" was not designed for laughs. During "coordination exercises" is the physical training, a fellow who could double for a mustacheless Chaplin, earns the SNAFU ribbon by getting unilaterally all tangled up. He is expected to bring down the house when the film, now nearing the editing stage, is shown. Exhibition date is tentatively set for October 15.

M/Sgt. Frank Reese, 14 years in the Army, carries the story. He has been starred in several pictures produced for the Army. His actions and appearance, he can easily be mistaken for Costello of Abbott and Costello fame. The picture is under the direction of Ist. Sgl. Fred Huro and Cpl. Charley Senatore is the editor.

"YOUSE GUYS OF DE TOITY TOIL"

When I was young with pep galore
I lived down South where they said "shore"
I roamed its valleys, hills and wood
And learned its language was misunderstood
By "joiks" up north, loud-mouthed and noisy,
Who'd never been outside of "Jolisey"
The southern drawl is more in vogue
Than northern "Jabber" and Yankee "brogue"

I loved the palms, sunshine and flowers
The breeze of trade-winds and southern showers
And planned to stay but 'pos my wold!
They beast me north with de "toity-told"
And here I am in all this noise
"Chooist-a moity" I miss "youse guys"
But wam this mess in over
And all the shootin's done
I'm headin' back to Dixie.
That's where I'll have my fun
I'll open my days just "whittlin"
And fishin' and lyin' round
No other place upon this earth
Is real contentment found!

THE WORLD AT WAR

The land front in Italy is at present in a state of flux as the retreating German troops seek to establish a defensive line based on Naples. General Clark’s Fifth Army, having consolidated its position in the Salerno area is within 12 miles of the key port of Naples, as General Montgomery’s Eighth Army pushes up steadily from its southern beachheads. American forces have landed on Sardinia to help the Italians clear the island of the remaining German troops there. French commandos landed from North Africa are helping local patriots free the island of Corsica from the Nazi foe; already the entire western coast, including the capital of Ajaccio, has been liberated.

The powerful Russian offensive is surging forward on all sectors of the long front. The key city of Bryansk has been recaptured and Smolensk is already menaced. Toward the south, Kiev is getting within range of the Soviets, who are only 30 miles from the big Dnieper River where the Germans may be expected to attempt a stand.

The recapture of New Guinea by General MacArthur’s warriors progresses at a steady pace following the seizure of the important bases of Salamaua and Lae. Aerial activity on both sides is heavy.

WANTED: APARTMENTS

Anyone having knowledge of vacant furnished or unfurnished apartments, houses or even rooms with cooking privileges in the vicinity of Morris Field or in the city of Charlotte are urged to report addresses and particulars to the Housing Committee at the Morris Field Women’s Club, phone extension 314.

More than a score of officers with families recently reported in at Morris Field are “house-hunting” at this time with little success, it is understood.

It is also suggested that officers and enlisted men who are about to vacate living quarters inform the Committee of the availability of their house or apartment so that newcomers at the Base may have the opportunity to rent them.

Members of the Housing Committee recently have been volunteering their mornings from 9 o’clock until noon to advise newcomers at Morris Field on available house and apartment listings. This work is to be continued at the Women’s Club each morning from now on.
LT. COLONEL WILLIE C. LOWE

LT. COLONEL WILLIE C. LOWE, who recently arrived in Charlotte to assume command of the 334th Sub-Depot at Morris Field. Lt. Colonel Lowe succeeds Lt. Colonel James H. Reed, Jr., who was transferred.

Lt. Colonel Lowe activated the 88th Sub-Depot at Pope Field, and was in command there until transferred to the 339th Sub-Depot at Laurinburg-Maxton Army Air Base June 1, 1943.

Lt. Colonel Lowe is a native of Monticello, Mississippi. He attended the Monticello High School, and later graduated from Mississippi State College, where he was a member of the E.O.T.C. He received his commission as Lt. Colonel on December 31, 1942, and has been a reserve officer since June 6, 1936.

Lt. Colonel Lowe's past experience has proven him to be a very able officer and administrator. He is well-known in military circles in North Carolina, and commands a host of friends at this base.

At present, Lt. Colonel Lowe has taken quarters on the base.

Innocent Abroad - An American newly arrived in London began to order dinner. "I'd like a porterhouse steak smothered in mushrooms, buttered toast...." "Excuse me sir," interrupted the waiter. "Are you teaching or are you just reminiscing?"

The weather's no bad, it was only fit for conversation.

LT. DAVID F. MUNNS

Pictured above is Lt. David Frank Munns, who recently left for thirty days detached service with the 339th Sub-Depot at Laurinburg-Maxton Army Air Base.

Lt. Munns is a native of Geneva, Ohio. He went to college, and is near Cleveland, but Lt. Munns insists he is near Geneva! He received his education at Lawrence Park College in Toronto, Canada, and later attended Case School of Scientific and Engineering in Cleveland, Ohio, where he majored in Mechanical Engineering.

Lt. Munns was inducted into the Army on December 29, 1941. He attended the Army Air Force Primary Flying School, and Air Force Training School. He received his commission as 2nd Lieutenant on January 2, 1942. Before coming to Morris Sub-Depot, Lt. Munns was Assistant Squadron Adjutant of the 97th Service Group in Columbus, Ohio. At Morris Sub-Depot, he is Assistant Supply Officer, Training and Personnel Officer, and Salvage and Disposal Officer.

Your reporter has just heard that Lt. Munns was promoted to the rank of 1st Lieutenant, September 18, 1943. Our congratulations, Lieutenant!

FOOLOSOPHY
By Martin Mullender

This gas shortage is really becoming serious. A few days ago as I went to work, the man I rode with had the misfortune to hit an extremely fat man. The driver got out to help the fat man. "Looks like you would have gone around me," growled the man. "Sorry," said the driver, "I wasn't sure I had enough gas."

Gas is the only shortage. The labor situation is rather acute. Quite different from what it was ten years ago. I remember things got so bad that you could hardly tell the time of day by your watch. We even had to lay off one of the hands.

Just a sample of the confusing signs seen on one of the jerky-water railroads we used to run on:
"Try our engines. They satisfy."
"Come ahead; you're unimportant."
"Don't stop, nobody will miss you."
"Take a chance. You can get killed by a train only once."

Austen will be here. Beware hay-fever sufferers. Sometimes it will be the affirmative and sometimes the negative. First the eyes and then the nose.

It isn't always the clock with the loudest tick that keeps the best time.

You don't see ambition taking a day off.

It doesn't matter how homely a girl is, if she tells her she is lovely, you could never convince her otherwise.

It's a good thing that not just sensible women marry. If that were the case, there would be twice as many old bachelors. Come to think of it, about as many men marry as women.

Funny thing about married life. Some of these women who don't ever know their own minds are forever giving their husbands a piece of it.

When a woman makes up a man's mind as to who is boss—they like happy ever after.

Love is blind. Marriage is an eye ointment that will open them fast enough.

O.K., Maxine, a kiss may be a reward or it may be a punishment—depends.

MARGERY CHAPMAN

Shown above at work at a duplicating machine is Miss Margery Chapman. Margery has been working at Sub-Depot for almost eight months, and she says that in the longest time she has ever stayed in one place. However, to begin, she was born within a few miles of Charlotte, at Mt. Holly, N. C. Margery has always wanted to travel. From the time she was "too high to a grasshopper" as she explains it, she has followed her father around in his travels. She has been as far North as Connecticut, as far South as Texas, and as far West as California. During her travels, Margery has had a variety of experiences, and has met many interesting people. One of her most unusual experiences occurred when she was a group of young people were going swimming somewhere in Texas. The entire group had chosen to ride in an old-time western buckboard. It seems everybody liked the idea with the exception of the horse. Things were just a little doll on the ride, and the horse being stubborn as was his nature, had already decided that he didn't want to go along, anyhow; therefore he kicked up his heels and took off. The result—Margery says when she came to her senses, she was sitting right on top of one of the famous Texas cacti. The rest of the party were scattered along the road at different intervals, but none of them were in a cactus.

Margery's hobbies consist of reading and boating. She has her own boat out on the Catawba River.
WACTIVITIES

By Capt. Winn Wade

Such service! Such food! What a wonderful time! We are talking about the dinner the 23rd gave to some of its WACs after the dinner we "saw the sights" of the 23rd Area. . . .

Honesty we were treated like queens, and we liked it; thank you very much. . . . What you hear about and never see: Capt. Bonnie Smith sitting on her bed at night after eight singing the Marine theme. . . . Is there a dietician in the house? Capt. Jones and Enrlich have an argument on; hold your hat! are there any "fattening" vitamins in watermelon; winner will be acclaimed by popular vote. . . . WAC OF THE WEEK is Capt. Judy Hogues; you probably know her, but if you don't it's time that you do. . . . She's the featured singer on the Morris Field Air Show and the "This Is The Army" broadcast; she has a lovely voice and--incidentally--is quite. . . . well. . . . lovely to look at. . . . WACs are picking up a new lingo; where are you getting it, girls? Couldn't be from our "singing Troubadours", could it? . . .

Tangos galore at WAC N. O. this week; far too many to list all; our congrats; keep up the good work. . . . Curiosity killed the cat. . . .

so-o-o, to all you fellows who are not curious as to why the WACs are wearing the new pins, they were presented by Col. Goddard to those girls who were WACs before they became WACs. . . . We are sorry to announce that Sgt. Virtue, who is on her furlough, is ill and will be unable to return for awhile. . . . The best sport we know in Toby White; before she left on furlough there was a terrific series of short-sheeting, etc.; . . . and all of it seemed to be Toby; like a good soldier--she took it.

One Year Ago in THE MORRIS CODE

Sept. 26, 1942--Capt. Lewis Austin Sanders becomes the new commanding officer of Base Operations and the 30th Air Base Squadrons. . . .

RETREAT PARADE LOST
BY LOCKE'S NOSE

by Pfc. Frank Maggipinto
30th Air Base Sq.--After having marched off with the honors tow weeks ago, the 30th was bossed out by the Guard Sq. in last week's retreat parade; partially to blame for this temporary setback is 5/Stg. Wesley E. Locke, who twitched his schnauzer just as he passed the reviewing stand. Repeat: we were bossed out, tak, tak!

The Orderly Room is now infused with the odor of shellack and terpentine permeating from the adjacent Supply Room; thanks to Pfc. Vandergrift, 7/Stg. Cummings, and Cpl. Dantulla, the Supply Room now boasts a brand new paint job...Oh, yes. 7/Stg. Penfield helped a little, too: he requisitioned the paint.

Back from furlough is half the personnel in Base Headquarters, including 5/Stg. Di Pabbio and eleven clerks in training.....7/Stgs.

Laney and Cipoletti, who have been shouldering most of the work (or so they say), will now have plenty of help for so they hope!... Now's about falling out for calisthenics now, boys?

SURPRISE OF THE WEEK: W0 March took calisthenics four times, once for S/Sgt. Bob Newlin who had to be up at Headquarters to answer the telephone.

Newcomers in the outfit include two new officers, 1st Lt. George & Young Jr. and 2nd Lt. Robert J. Bernholdt.....Lt. Young replacesLt. William H. Parker, who recently changed the color of his bar and who is now attached to the Guard Squadron.....We all miss him and wish him the best of luck.

Prize bower of the week was committed by you when I forgot to bring four boxes of cookies to a dance in Belmont: result: the Orderly Room staff ate cookies.

MORRIS FIELD'S BIGGEST MAN HUNT OCCURRED LAST WEEK

by Srgs. O'Connell & Walker
307th Gl. Sq.--The past week had been a busy one with the biggest man hunt that Morris Field has ever had. It was hard work, but also brought a few laughs. Lt. Keating, Lt. Parker, 1st Lt. Fahrer and Sgt. Leimmeer chasing an 8 year old colored girl through the woods at the point of a gun--Sgt. Whalen throwing Tommy Gun and hands in the air when a pig came grunting around the corner of his pen--Sgt. Fahrer capturing one of the strayed boys--Sgt. Leimmeer and Cpl. McMonagle looking for a wood-chopper and finding an electric fence. The latest Guard House phrase is "call out the Guard, another report." Lt. Parker says he hasn't played "cops and robbers" since he was ten years old.....Prior to leaving on a dangerous mission to distant Camp Edwards, our two heroes, Sgt. Spence and Cpl. McMonagle promised to bring back “Something For The Boys”. Alas! It turned out to be just empty promises. But these trains “pick-ups” anyhow.

....Novellet: The Bazzard glided sinisterly overhead. The expert drew his trusty Colt, revolver, calibre .45 and with a rapidity marvelous to behold, five shots rang out as one. The Bazzard yawned politely and slowly glided out of sight... The Squadron “$4.00 question of the week is: How long will 2/Sgt. Anderson use “Colar-back”?

“TANTALIZING TROUPE OF TONSIL TEASERS”

By Cpl. Pat Jester

58th AAF Band—For quite some time now, practically all of that sophisticated band known as the “limelight” has been falling on that part of the 58th AAF Band familiar to all as the Morris Field Dance Orchestra. They have played dances and shows of all kinds in all of the exclusive spots in this vicinity, and their talent has become well known. But alas, we find that the talent in the Dance Orchestra is not all that is with us...as those persons who attended the premier showing of Irving Berlin’s all-soldier movie “THIS IS THE ARMY” saw for themselves. Yes, the men of the Military Band, ably assisted by the WACs and several GIs from the Medics, made quite a showing for themselves singing in the stage show which preceded the showing of the movie. We now refer to this group as the “Tantalizing Troupe of Tonsil Teasers”—with emphasis on the tantalizing.

Those who witnessed the rehearsals for this musical extravaganza could have been no less than amazed at the talent displayed. For instance, one could overlook the bass baritone of “Papa” Bennett, nor could one disregard the tenor of our boy, “Stookie” Houtschka. The “ensamblations” used by Ted (Continued on page 10)
SQUADRON SPOTLIGHT
TONSIL TEASERS

Destroyers while vocalizing certainly could never be ignored. And, as for "Caruso" Burgio... "tremendous!" Yes, Broadway has something on those boys.

Seriously speaking, however, all of these boys and girls did a mighty fine job, and they are due a lot of credit. Too, a mighty fine voice was discovered in that of Cpl. Joe Price, so we all are hoping to hear him in the near future on the Morris Field Air Show.

HOLLYWOOD STARS ENTERTAIN MEDICS

by "Father" Ryan

Medical Detachment—Like the brook in Tennessee’s poem, the activities within the squadron keep rolling on endearingly... The patients and the entire personnel enjoyed an interesting lecture recently from the lips of Lt. Thomas Manschet of Charlotte, World War II hero who recently returned from the Casal and the Golomac... The biggest surprise was the visit of Hollywood film stars Shirley Patterson, Lynn Carver, and Jassabella, who is Mrs. Tyrone Power in private life... The stars were accompanied by five outstanding war heroes who have returned from combat zones with vivid human stories... and, we may add, decorations, for they had plenty to show... The visit was arranged by the Medical staff through the courtesy of Maj. Taylor... PARTY PATTERN: The Detachment turned out en masse to help put across one of the finest parties ever held... The personnel did a grand job in setting the "Gan House Gang" with plenty of refreshing beverages and food... Our sincere congratulations to the girls of the Charlotte Q.M. Depot, the Variety Club, the Belmont Teachers, and the Associated Transport Lines Inc., for adding the necessary feminine charm to the occasion... Everything went off "dizel how" (all right)... And we must tip the old Fedora to our CQ, who conceived the idea, much to the delight of all... The most popular visitor was THE BLACKOUT: everyone enjoyed being caught in it, especially the Blue Ribbon kids, who were at the right spot at the right time...

... The roller-skating rink was a popular scene for action... At least it proved one place where a person couldn’t stand on his two feet on an overloaded diet... Immediately after the affair, all dignified their approval for an encore... We heartily assure you there’ll be another one real soon... Listed among the popular personal present were our distinguished married couples: the Riddells, Elvian, Pvt. Nosiz and the Mrs., Cpl. Stewart and his wife, the Sleepers... not to forget the Walkers... With the fall activities schedule in high gear, there will be lots to report as the weeks roll by.

TELEPHONE OPERATOR IS SWEETHEART OF SQUADRON

By Lt. Sgjt. Bill Weeks

12th ASPT Comm. Sqg.—Don’t look now, but it seems that the 17th is exactly 4 points better than the 16th.... That last game was a dilly... We can think of exactly 47 reasons why we liked it; thanks, Sgt. Johnson... We lost one of the swellest fellows we have ever had when George (the boy who will do anything) Paris left us for the "Gadgets"... When you get that commission, George, don’t forget to take your shoes off when you go to bed... Only we enlisted men can do that... We also lost Cpl. Harold Fink on that same deal; Oh well, as they say, "Our loss is their gain,"... So long to Cpl. "Red Ink" Robinson (Sgt. Ward did finally find out where the red ink disappeared to) who has left for a few weeks’ instruction in the gentle art of goldsticking and classification... While in Chicago he sent the following card: "Hi, the Southern wives are OK, the Southern hospitality is OK, the Southern climate is OK, even the Southern gentlemen are OK, but that Southern Railroad isn’t worth a d--... Good old North, but four hours late. Bobbie... SEVENTEENTHINGS: What Staff has lost his heart throb called "Tootie" and hopes all day?... What Staff calls what WAC named Freida at every opportunity?... What Staff wakes up what Mess Sgt. to get chew at two in the morning?... What telephone operator has unofficially been chosen the sweetheart of the squadron? What a voice... Oh, boy... We’re still wondering where and why "Pretty Boy" Baskett got that bright red lipstick on his shirt... What would your mama say, "Pretty Boy"?

CIVILIAN GUARDS IN WORLD WAR

Chief Runstrom comes from 'way up on the coast of Massachusetts. He has spent the greater part of his life on the water, having served with the United States Navy prior to the outbreak of World War Number One. During his enlistment in the Navy, he visited such fascinating and far away places as China, Japan, Africa, and Russia. At the outbreak of World War Number One, he enlisted as a Pfc., and was sent overseas almost immediately. While in France, he participated in several major battles, winning a number of campaign bars.

Chief Runstrom was transferred to the Sub-Depot from Middletown. He says that he likes his work here very much; but that after the war, he plans to return to the New England States and settle down to real living.

Corporal Clark's life compares somewhat with that of the Chief. Before World War Number One, he also served with the United States Navy. During his enlistment, he spent two eventful years in China and made one complete trip around the world. He tells of an experience he had in China with the famed Chinese bandits. He was on a ship sailing down the Yangtze River, when they were attacked by a band of bandits from the shore. They engaged in a fierce battle, and killed almost 200 of the bandits, with no loss to the Americans.

At the outbreak of the first World War, he enlisted in the Army, and was among the first troops to be landed in France. Corporal Clark has several citations from major battles, also seven campaign bars.

During his employment at the Sub-Depot, he has not had any sick or annual leave. However, he says he won't be able to hold this record, as he wants to see his son, who is coming home on a furlough from the Navy.

YOU HAVE 10 WAGE EARNERS

Six injuries have caused lost time since the Safety Program was launched March 1st. There were two of these injuries, one 1 1/3", involved severe injury to the fingers, in one case the loss of the tips of two fingers. This should be a warning to all employees.

"By whom?" asked a husband when told that his wife was operated.

COLONEL REED BIDS SUB-DEPOT EMPLOYEES FAREWELL

HEADQUARTERS 334TH SUB-DEPOT
Office of the Commanding Officer
MORRIS FIELD, CHARLOTTE, N. C.

23 September 1943

TO ALL EMPLOYEES, 334TH SUB-DEPOT, MORRIS FIELD, CHARLOTTE, N. C.

It is with genuine regret that it is necessary for me to leave my employees whom I am happy to call my friends of the Morris Sub-Depot. Of course, in an emergency, we all should be ready to go wherever we are considered to be needed most and, in leaving you, I hope that I will be able to carry on and do my best for the country that we all love.

I can truly say that the Morris Sub-Depot is doing the best work and has the finest class of good American citizens in it of any station that I have ever had the opportunity to visit. Our depot has been rated as superior month in and month out by the Air Service Command and this could only come about by the fine work and wonderful spirit of each one of you. I am justly proud of you and, again, I want to congratulate you.

I am sure that when your new Commanding Officer arrives that you will give him the same fine conscientious effort that you have already shown and in this way, you will continue to stand at the top, doing a commendable work to hasten our country in its effort toward victory.

I would like to tell each of you exactly how I feel and shake your hand, but as I will not have that opportunity, I will just say "Goodbye", and may you have happiness, health and peace.

JAMES E. REED, JR.,
Lt. Colonel, Air Corps,
Commanding.
GENERAL ORDERS OF THE WACS

It was based to happen. And it has. Sgt. J. Grosier of the Army Air Forces Training Command in their newspaper "The Take-Off" has written the eleven "General Orders" for the WACS. Here they are: 1) To take charge of this post and all wolves in view. 2) To wear my hat in a military manner keeping always on the alert because you never know who's looking. 3) To report all violations of ungentlemanly behavior to the other girls so they can be on guard. 4) To repeat all calls for WACS whose rooms are more distant from the telephone than my own. 5) To hit my host only when properly deceived. 6) To receive, okay, and pass on to the WAC who believes me all funny stories involving the commanding officer, the assistant or anyone else beyond earshot. 7) To talk to so wolves without an introduction unless they are nice. 8) To give the alarm in case of a mouse invading our quarters. 9) To consult one of the more experienced girls in a case not covered by instructions. 10) To salute all officers, including WAVES, because after all they are our allies. 11) To be especially watchful at night and to challenge all noises, especially those of wolves.

NOTE OF APPRECIATION

Quoted below is a letter of appreciation which Col. Walter B. Colm, Base Commander, received from Cornelius Vanderlips, father of Lt. Francis C. Vanderlips, former Engineering Officer at Morris Sub-Depot, who was recently killed in a plane crash near the field:

"On behalf of my family, and for myself, will you please convey to the officers of your command our most heartfelt thanks and appreciation for their very kind expressions of sympathy in the loss of our beloved son. It was a great comfort to us, in our unhappiness, to have their sympathetic understanding and which gave us the courage to carry on."

Next in Line

Sure—it's swell to talk with that cute little "eyesful" on the Telephone! And the other fellows enjoy talking to their girl friends just as you do to yours. So whenever you're inside the booth, don't forget the other fellows waiting in line to place their calls. Please be as brief as possible.

If there's a delay on your long distance call, please wait outside the booth. Then someone else can talk while the operator is obtaining a clear circuit for you.

PING-PONG TOUREY NEARS COMPLETION

By "Father" Ryan

The squadrons adhering to the announcement in last week's CODE relative to the staging of the Inter-Squadron Ping Pong Tourney have reached the half-way mark, and within a week the Morris Field Tournament of Champions will get underway.

All squadron champs will be paired against each other and in this way, the Official Base Champion will be selected.

The Finance Det. has announced that Bill Buckman will represent them in the finals.

Among the outstanding paddlers now in action are: Frank Maggipinto and Bob Stead of the 36th. Stead is present Men's South Jersey Champ. Alex Younghowe, Jimmie Huggins, Chief Brookshire, Jerry Peller, Elmer Schreiner and Joe Barone are the best bets of the GA. Sq.

The MACs have sent Millie Kozlowski, Betty Campbell and Sarah Yard into the fray in the hope of victory while the 11th AVM. Sq. are represented with Sgts. Stewart and Sylvester. Cpl. Kelley and Pvt. Cross. Some of the better men in the K.3rd Q. M. are: Pvt. Frank Napierata, Sgts. Dixon and Balnosa and Cpl. Heikey. A strong list of good men hails from the Medicos in the persons of Tom Ryan, Earl Kilburn, Mike Hayes, Baun Everley, Bobby Klisch and Herman Weiser.

TEENY TOURNAMENT RESULTS

Here are the initial results of matches played in the first round of the Base Tennis Championship. Contestants are urged to keep in close touch with 6th/9th Squadrons to keep in line with the Physical Training Office (phone 376) for any changes or additional information relative to the tourney.

SOFTBALL STANDINGS

The hard-hitting 14th Comm Sq. Softball array captured the second round title in the Base Softball League with a fine record of 16 wins and 1 defeat. Final standings reveal a tie for leading honors among the Base Service units between the Guard Sq. and the 903rd Quartermaster. The Base Physical Training Department is planning a Shanghai playoff tourney; it will furnish full details to those teams involved.

ROUND TOWN

Billfold Girl . . .

... of the week

FOR THIS WEEK'S BILLFOLD GIRL, S/Sgt. Thomas J. Piazzano of the Medical Detachment has nominated his lovely wife June, who sported the name of Haggerty until she decided to make a change. A native of Long Island, N. Y., Mrs. Piazzano was employed at the Philadelphia Naval Depot before joining her husband here in Charlotte. Besides being an excellent cook -- as displayed by S/Sgt. Piazzano's expanding physique -- she is a first rate dancer and swimmer.
