EDITORIAL

Take it just a bit easier, soldier, there is an enemy in our midst. O, maybe not in the same office or the same barracks, but perhaps on the same telephone wire or in the same cafe downtown or at the same barber shop. He is listening to what you say and what your buddy says, he is putting two and two together and sometimes he is getting four, he is getting results. The enemy talks, too. He is spreading rumors, he is saying things that Adolf and his fascist pals in Berlin and Tokyo like to hear. Yes, there are some Americans running about the country who have openly said that America should lose the war, there are Americans who have praised Hitler and damned democracy.

You have a job to perform, soldier. Talk a little less and keep your ears open. The enemy has planted individuals within our military establishment whose sole purpose is to hinder our successful prosecution of the war. These men criminally slander our leaders. They sabotage equipment. They talk of negotiation and getting the war over in a hurry. Watch out for them. Any man who acts or speaks in such a manner SHOULD BE REPORTED TO YOUR BASE INTELLIGENCE OFFICER OR UNIT INTELLIGENCE OFFICER immediately. If you do this, you are not a stool pigeon; you are just using common sense and helping your buddies and yourself.

In Chinese currency, it costs a dollar to buy a half pack of cheap cigarettes. A pair of shoes costs 800 (U.S.). There is inflation in China. The American dollar is only worth a nickel there. Tons of Chinese bank notes are shipped by boat to India and thence by plane to China to keep the economy going. The cargo space could more than readily be used to transport military equipment, but we cannot let the Chinese government collapse because of the economic crisis. Tokyo might conceivably have been bombed anew but it does not seem for inflation in China.

Some groups are better off: wage workers and farmers, for instance. But the professional workers, the most trained civil servants are on the brink of financial ruin. The government itself has been forced to resort to taxation in kind in order to keep the army and government functioning.

Yes, inflation does actually weaken the military efficiency of a nation. So it is with China and so it would be with the United States if the present trend were allowed to continue. The war against inflation requires the concerted effort of all Americans, or else it is a losing venture. The strategy is simple: don’t spend too much... save... don’t bid prices up. The main tactical weapon in the war is the purchase of war bonds, saving with interest. A $25 war bond is a good buy; it cost only $18.75. It helps win the war. It is as safe as the government that puts it out. That’s the story on the Fourth War Loan Drive. What do you say? Whatever you do, say it with bonds.

FOOTBALL STAR ON TEMPORARY DUTY HERE

BOB KENNEDY WAS ALL-AMERICAN FOR WASHINGTON STATE COLLEGE

Lt. Bob Kennedy, on temporary duty at the Special Service Office, is a pretty fair football player. Good enough to have been All-American in 1942 and to have participated in a couple of All-Star games.

Bob, who hailed from Sand Point, Idaho, established his great athletic career at Washington State University, where he played basketball as well as football. He doesn’t look particularly like an athlete; he’s a young, handsome boy looking blond fellow with a broad smile ever on his face; he is modest and soft-spoken, but on the gridiron his pace, passes, and runs with the best of them.

Kennedy played left half and fullback for relatively weak W.S.U. teams in ‘40, ‘41, and ‘42; largely through his efforts, the team finished second in the Pacific Coast Conference during his last two years of play. Kennedy did all of Washington State’s passing and punting, averaging 40 yards in the latter. The most thrilling game he remembers was against his home state team, Idaho, during his third year. The underdog Grizzlies and Gray team held Idaho to a scoreless tie at the half, at which time colori coach Bab Hollingsberry gave his boys, and particularly Kennedy, a real pep talk. On the half time kickoff, one of Bob’s team-mates scored a touchdown and then Mr. Kennedy really went to town, scoring three touchdowns within the next four minutes.

According to Kennedy -- and he has played against the foremost players of all conferences in one East-West game and the 1942 All-Star game in which he and a group of other college stars upset the great Washington Redskins team -- the Pacific Coast Conference is undoubtedly the strongest of all conferences. Frankie Albert, the great Stanford T-System quarterback, in the back he played against. He picks Bob Riekehr, Cal’s great tackle, as the toughest lineman he ran up against.

Playing guard in basketball, Bob managed to do pretty well for himself also. He was on the Washington State team which was beaten by Wisconsin in the finals of the national championship in 1943.

As far as his Army career is concerned, Lt. Kennedy admits he’s “just a rookie”. He joined the Army in 1943 and graduated from Air Force Administrative O.C.S., where he was squadron cadet commander, on January 8. He is serving at Morris Field as Assistant Special Service Officer previous to reporting to Special Service School.

After the war, Lt. Kennedy plans to play professional football with the Washington Redskins.

WE LOVE THE ARMY BUT WE DO LIKE TO GRIPES

By Pvt. Elizabeth Blake

Two Fats were walking along a street in Charlotte shortly before midnight the other evening, indulging in the favorite pastime of every G.I. . . . grumping. "Look at those dimes. . . . mmmmm," said the first Fats. "Uh huh," echoed the second. "We'd better get along though, gotta be off the streets by twelve o'clock you know." Fats number one looked about them and said, "Look at those lucky

INTELLECTUAL SOCIALITE GOES COMPLETELY MAD

By Pvt. Archie Somnug

Have you ever heard of or do you know of a G.I. bookworm? I have actually never met one, but I have good reason to believe that such a thing exists. My informer, Pfc. Prask (the Next Exercise) Maggipinto says that he knows one, and my opinion of Maggi is pretty good so I believe him. I have only been on this base a short time and have not had the opportunity to meet Cpl. Tony Racich, formerly of East Chicago, Ill., and the man is question.

Maggi tells me that Cpl. Racich is an authority on ordnance material, principally munitions, and he is a leading expert in the field of death, meaning all kinds of guns. He also told me some other things, but I will pass them on to you later if time, space, and ethics permit. It seems as though Cpl. Tony Racich is a foot locker full of books. Not comic books, not Zane Grey thrillers, but even The Rover Boys Secret Airship, but G.I. Manuals. Guns, guns, and more guns. Now a little knowledge is a good thing but familiarity breeds contempt. In time he might get to be such an authority that when the War Department might make him a permanent fixture of their organization, I could think of no worse fate for such a deserving young man. In short Cpl. Racich is a specialist on weapons. You know what a specialist is. That is a guy who gets to know more and more about less and less until he knows everything about nothing. Me, I get to know less and less about more and more until I know nothing about everything.

However Cpl. Racich does have a social life, such as it is. His friends say that he has a good time; on their money. I'm inclined to think that he does not have as much fun as his friends merely see this as idle chatter and they are really flattered to be in his presence. I know I would be.

The scene is a German court martial:

"Accused Mueller. You have called the Fuehrer a bloody idiot. I accuse you of three crimes. You have indulged in enemy propaganda. You have libeled the head of the Reich. And most important, you have betrayed a military secret."

OFFERED: PRIZES!

Here are a couple of chances for enlisted personnel who have a good imagination and can put it into writing.

TANK Magazine, the Army weekly, announced last week that it is planning to hold a short story contest open to enlisted personnel of the armed forces.

Stories must be original, unpublished and should run from 1,000 to 5,000 words. Entries should be sent to Fiction Editor, TANK, 205 East 49th Street, New York 17, New York.

The author of the story adjudged best by the editor of TANK will get a $50.00 War Bond. The winning story and any other deemed worthy will be printed in TANK. Entries must be received not later than March 1, 1944.

The other contest is being sponsored by the Macmillan Publishing Company and is open to all men and women in the Armed Forces of any of the United Nations. There is a $3,500 prize for the best novel; a $2,500 prize for the best non-fiction book and $5,000 in prizes will be offered for other contributions.

The new deadline for the books is December 31, 1944 (Dec. 31, 1945, was original deadline). For further information regarding the contest you may write to Macmillan Publishers, New York, N.Y.

Here’s the official War Department explanation of the difference between the WAC, a Wac and an Air Wac. The WAC capitalized, is the entire women’s army corps — a Wac is a member of the WAC — and an Air Wac is a member of the WAC attached to the army air forces.

TAKING A MINUTE OFF from business, Capt. Alfred W. Baldwin turns around to let Capt. Virgil B. Johnson, Base Adjutant, pin that extra silver bar on his shirt collar. A native of New York City, Capt. Baldwin graduated from Harvard (class of ’31) and also the Columbia School of Business. Before joining the Army, he was research analyst for Scudder, Stevens and Clark in Boston. He was given a direct commission in October 1943. Capt. Baldwin is Base Military Personnel Officer, and one of the most popular officers in Base Headquarters. Photo by Sgt. Norman Merrill.

G. I. IN AUSTRALIA RECEIVES GLASSES THROUGH CODE

In the MORRIS CODE issue of 27 October 1945, a notice was inserted asking for the return of a pair of glasses that had been lost somewhere on the base by Cpl. William H. Baker.

Last week, the Special Service Officer received a V-Mail letter from the same Cpl. Baker, now in Australia, stating that he had received the glasses that very day, January 14, 1945, in perfect shape.

Cpl. Baker went on to say: “Since it is impossible for me to send anything except my sincere gratitude from here, I am instructing my mother, Mrs. Eleanor F. Baker, 1217 Crucible St., Pittsburg, Penna. to forward a reward to you, which I trust you will deliver to the deserving party if possible. I know you have already done more than enough for me, but I would appreciate it if you would grant me this additional request.”

The search is now on.
GYPSY ROSE LEE MAKES DELIGHTFUL APPEARANCE

Gypsy Rose Lee conquered Morris Field in a blitzkrieg invasion of two days last week. Miss Lee was not at all phased by the fact that she was still recovering from pneumonia. She ran the show as usual, with as many enlisted men as possible — also a few Vacs and officers — at and drenched with the boys, lost men, nurses, and incidentally put on one of the best shows seen around these parts for some time.

Tall, massially well proportioned, still fresh and lively despite her travels and her sickness, Gypsy is also quite a lively conversationalist. The only thing that bores her are Junior Chambers of Commerce. She just couldn't understand why she, of all people, should have pneumonia. "I've been doing the same number for years and I never had pneumonia before," she remarked. Here she had come to North Carolina with "everything, even ear muffs", whereas in Boston, int Sgt. W. T. McNulty's home town, she had performed in a freezing theater, and those heads.... "Why the cops didn't come in, I didn't know."

Asked whether her present tour was for work or pleasure, she passed a second or two, smiled broadly, and replied, "As long as you have to get into the clothes and out of the show, it's work." She was very sweet about refusing to dance with Sgt. George Humphrey at the NCO Club: "No dancing, doctor's orders....not with my clothes on!"

As all but the uninstructed must know, Miss Lee is not only America's most distinguished strip-teams artist; she is also author, stage actress, screen performer and wife twice, so far as she can recall. The manuscript of her "Naked Genius" sold for $180,000 to Var Bonda. She has already begun writing her third book, but will make another movie before finishing it. She really enjoys playing before soldier audiences; they are truer and more attentive than New York audiences; at the same time she states that "there is nothing tougher in the world than an Army audience."

Gypsy and the boys put on quite a show. Headliners for the G.I.'s were Roswell Stringer, Zack Howitt, John Prance, and Frank Maggipinto. The climax of the evening came when Gypsy stripped and Stringer followed suit. Make no mistake about it, Gypsy really did strip — well, almost.

AIRCRAFT LETTERING

The Army has explained another problem for the immediate relief of its military personnel who might have been striving to learn the alphabetical dissections of various planes used in the Army Air Forces.

Perhaps you already knew, but just in case, this is an opportunity to check up:

Attack, (A); Bomber-cruiser, (B); Cargo Transport, (C); Multipurpose Fighter, (PM); Amphibious Observation, (OA); Photographic, (F); Pursuit Fighter, (P),; Pursuit Biplane, (PB); Primary Trainer, (PT); Panic Trainer, (WT); Advance Trainer, (AT); Experimental, (E); Service Order, (V); Autogiro, (AG); and Lightning, (L).
11th AVIATION TAKES RETREAT PARADE LEAD

Last Friday at the weekly Retreat Parade, Col. Warner B. Gates, CO, presented military honors to the next of kin of two JAP Sergeants.

Victor E. Irvin of Charlotte received the Air Medal awarded to his son, T/Sgt. Benjamin E. Irvin, now a prisoner of war in Germany.

Mrs. N. M. Tongue of Ft. Lawn, S. C., received the Distinguished Flying Cross awarded to her son, T/Sgt. James N. Tongue, killed in action after engaging in fifteen bombing missions over Nazi-occupied Europe as a Flying Fortress top turret gunner, destroying two enemy planes.

With Major Chipp C. Davis as Commander of Troops and Capt. Leonard S. Fowlers as Adjutant the troops passed in review before Col. Gates and members of his staff. The troops were judged 1) Ser. Sgts.; 2) Gd. Sec.; 3) Avn. Sec.; 4) WAC Sec.; 5) Hq. Sec.

The current standings in the trophy race:
1. Avn. Sec. 40
2. Ser. Sgts. 35
3. Gd. Sec. 30
4. WAC Sec. 29
5. Hq. Sec. 19

ENTERTAINMENT SCHEDULED

The name of the next stage show to appear here is “HATS OFF,” one of the new musical revues now being added to the USO-CAMP SHOWS repertoire. This production will be staged here at Theater No. 2 on Feb. 10 at 1830 and 2030 o’clock.

According to advance reports, HATS OFF is the revue we’ve been waiting for. It carries an eye-filling package of talent and is rated as one of the year’s best vaudeville shows. Music that makes the whole house jump is embellished with slick chick dancers and velvety-voiced vocalists. Thrills and surprises are provided by novelty acts and eccentric foibles who carry on with rapid-fire ad-libbing and hilarious madcap. HATS OFF in all “click” and adds up to a solid hour of entertainment.

And, like all CAMP SHOWS, this entertainment is free.

HE’S A GOOD MAN

Los Angeles, Nov. 30 — Police said Louis Jortlow, 22, booked on suspicion of illegally wearing a uniform, wore these insignia on his Army tunic:

Purple Heart, Pacific combat theater, Asiatic service with three stars, defense bar with two stars, World War II ribbon with five stars, Distinguished Service Cross, Croix de Guerre with palms, Belgium, Cuban and Nicaraguan campaign ribbons, amphibious forces, Guadalcanal and Alaska action, sergeant’s stripes.

Oh, yes — the good conduct ribbon, too!

BY THE WAY . . . A SUGGESTION TO AGRICULTURAL PRODUCERS: Use more of the above-detailed cotton picking. Cotton is a most necessary crop.
FLYERS AND 1st T.A.D.
KEEP BASKETBALL LEAD

By "Father" Ryan

The smooth functioning Base Court League continues to supply the sport fans with the best competitive entertainment here at the base. Important changes in the league standings have occurred, and it appears that at the rate some of the lesser-know clubs are traveling there'll be some new faces among the first division teams before long. The results of last week's games gives true verification of this.

The Medics, reeling under a shocking setback at the hands of the 1st T.A.D., still found the road troublesome and absorbed their second and third straight losses. In the first game they bowed to a fast improving 81st Bomber Sq., 41-22. The work of Doc Jennings, Barklow, and Phillips spelled defeat for the pill-rollers. In their other game, they had the misfortune to bump into Mike Parsycki and his 796th sharpshooters and were shelledacked 61-32. "The Beast" accounted for 26 points, only four less than the entire losers' total. Danoff, with 12 points, starred for the Medicals.

The Flyers remained the only unbeaten team in the circuit, triumphing the 50th Bomb Sq. in a wild and woolly contest 59-42. "Deacon" Storie tallied 19 points for the Red and Blue, closely followed by Tex Warrick and "Ducky" Pace; Stormy Hale paced the losers with 14 tallies. The 2nd LM & AW firemen turned on all throttles and pounded out a decisive 45-35 win over the plucky 4th Weathermen crew. "Honey" Abel rammed in 16 points for the winners, while Long John Heleinak scored 10 for the weathermen.

Winning up the week's play, the 46th R.T.U. supplied an upset in winning a spike-tangling 23-22 contest from the 81st Bombers. Two foul shots by Flip Fragile in the last few seconds of play won the game. Boor, Kahl, Dirks and Major Walker, turned in spectacular floor games for the winners. The 87th Bomb Sq. continued its winning ways taking a close game from the 58th Bombers, 56-32. Payne's 10 points helped the winners, while big Preston Grant as usual lead the losers with 12 tallies.

The schedule for next week offers us some fine contests:

790th - vs. - 89th Bomb Sq.

Tuesday 9 Feb: 50th Sq. - vs. - 81st Bomb Sq.
4th Wea. - vs. - Medics.

Wednesday 10 Feb: 11th Ave. - vs. - 46th R.T.U.
2nd LM & AW - vs. - 83rd Bomb Sq.

TEN LEADING SCORERS

Duke Fortos was his lead whittled down to a mere 9 points in the individual point scoring championship last week when "Black Mike" Pusrycki knocked 26 markers against the Medics. Doc Jennings also bears watching in the race, as he appears to have lost none of his point producing ability. He stands third, but like Mike played in two games less than the Duke.

civilians. They don't have to go home attwelve. Oh, to be a civilian." Just then a soldier and his girl friend came along side.

"Excuse me girls," the soldier said, "But will you please tell my girl friend how you like the WACS? She wants to enlist." The two Wacs threw themselves wholeheartedly into a super sales talk on the advantages of Army life.

Said the second WAC, "Why, I wouldn't be a civilian for a million dollars!" which only goes to prove: griping is a healthy business after all and the Wacs, if given the opportunity, wouldn't trade places with any civilians they know.
A private and his topkick were walking along the road on a hike. After a while the yardbird asked, "What's the purpose of our taking hikes?"

"I don't know," the sergeant replied.

A little later the private queried, "Why do we have inspections on Saturday?"

"Search me," answered the sergeant.

"Say narge..." began the rookie, "Ok, never mind.

"Go ahead," the topkick urged. "Ask me questions. How else you gonna learn?"

Sgt: "Don't talk like that -- there's a lady present?"

Pvt: "See you. After they go out with you, they're reclassified!"

The snow was falling softly. There was a definite winter-time scene being set. Poetically, the soldier spoke, "Winter draws on."

"Come on," replied the dame, "I never wore those things."
