

Veterans of Foreign Wars

In your re-entry to civilian life many organizations will open their membership to you Veterans. It will be up to each man to make his choice. Our organization welcomes those of you who have served on foreign soil, and is interested not only in good fellowship, but also to assist each Veteran get back into civilian life. Our older members have been "through the mill" twenty-five years ago and are capable of advising you younger Veterans in your re-entry into civilian life.

The Charlotte Post of "Veterans of Foreign Wars" is a growing organization—organized to assist its members in every possible way.

The American Red Cross has followed our fighting forces on every battle front, and on returning to civilian life we are still anxious to continue to serve.

Home Service personnel assist in financial planning with disabled ex-servicemen and dependents of deceased men during temporary period between filing of application or claim for governmental benefits and final settlement.

Our Charlotte chapter is proud of its local record and volunteer workers. Our responsibility is to assist ex-servicemen and their families and to furnish information about insurance, allowances, pensions, and loans.

Your local chapter of the American Red Cross welcomes you home, and stands ready to meet your needs.

CARL McCRAW, President.

Ministerial Association

Speaking for the ministers of Charlotte and Mecklenburg County and for the congregations which we serve, I am aware of the fact that however wordy may be our welcome, the extent of our gratitude and the ambition of our hearts can never be expressed. We only ask that by returning to our churches you will give us an opportunity to express to you an indebtedness which we not only feel now, but of which we shall be conscious always, as we think of the men and the women who have done so much for us, that we shall never be able to do enough for them.

Community Chest

Those of us on the "home front" have been trying to keep the "home fires burning" while you men and women have gone thousands of miles away from home to fight our battles for us and again convince the nations of the world that the "American Way of Life" is the way of life to live.

The fact that we in America try to "take care of the other fellow"—the unfortunate—the widows and orphans—makes our way of life worth fighting for. This you have been doing for us. We, at home, have kept our social agencies operating—have improved our services—have many interested citizens anxious to assist and help you re-establish yourselves in civilian life. Our motto—"A helping hand to those who need it."

H. C. DOCKERY, President.
